Mitch Holthus, Mitch Holthus, one of the Midwest's most recognizable radio and television personalities, handles the play-by-play duties for the Chiefs for the 27th-straight year, giving him more years of service than any other "Voice of the Chiefs" in team history. Holthus has called a franchise-record 433 regular and postseason contests for Kansas City.

Joe Reardon, former Mayor/CEO of the Unified Government of Wyandotte County/Kansas City, Kansas, is President and CEO of the Greater Kansas City Chamber of Commerce. Prior to his appointment at the KC Chamber, Reardon served as President and CEO of the Kansas City Area Transportation Authority.

Clark Hunt Clark Hunt has been involved in the leadership of the Kansas City Chiefs for nearly two decades and currently serves as the club's Chairman and CEO. He has been the driving force behind the resurgence of the Chiefs, transforming the iconic franchise into one of the most successful teams in the NFL over the last decade. The Dallas, Texas, native is also a founding investor-operator in Major League Soccer and serves as Chairman and CEO of FC Dallas. He is married to the former Tavia Shackles of Kansas City and has three children, Gracelyn, Knobel and Ava. The Hunts are actively involved in numerous philanthropic initiatives in both Kansas City and Dallas.

Brett Veach Brett Veach was named the seventh general manager in Kansas City Chiefs history on July 10, 2017. Veach enters his fourth season as an NFL general manager and his 14th year in the National Football League. Prior to being elevated, he previously served as the Chiefs Co-Director of Player Personnel. At 42 years old, Veach is one of two youngest GMs in the NFL and in his first three seasons has made several impactful transactions for the club.

Mark Donovan is entering his 22nd season in the National Football League and his 12th season in Kansas City in 2020, he was named the fifth president in Chiefs history in January 2011 after serving two years as the club's chief operating officer. As president, Donovan is responsible for all aspects of the club's business operations and reports directly to Chairman and CEO Clark Hunt. As a former league executive, Donovan brings unique experience and valuable perspective to the team, with strong relationships both in the Kansas City area and on a national level. He and his wife Kathy have two children.

Andy Reid embarks on his eighth season as head coach of the Chiefs in 2020. Prior to taking over the head coaching duties in Kansas City, he spent 14 years at the helm of the Philadelphia Eagles. In his first seven seasons with the Chiefs, Reid's teams have qualified for the playoffs six times and have won four consecutive AFC West Championships from 2016 through 2019. Prior to taking over in Philadelphia in 1999, Reid was an assistant coach with the Green Bay Packers.
